DR. S. R. NGASWAMIIYENGAR
DIABETES SPECIALIST.

RARE AND INVALUABLE SPECIFIC FOR THE CURE OF "DIABETES."

The following are two of the numerous certificates received:—

Mr. Vithaldas P. Attawala, merchant Bombay, writes on 28-11-20:—I was suffering from Diabetes for the last 16 years and had tried many Doctors of Bombay but without any effect. I then put myself under the treatment of Doctor S. R. Iyengar and he prescribed a course of 45 days for me and that I was completely cured at the end of the course. Before I commenced Dr Iyengar's treatment, my urine was examined by a Bombay M. D., the per centage of sugar was more than 4 per cent. After the treatment my urine was examined on 28th November, 1920 at Dr. Masina Hospital Cathelogical Laboratory of Bombay "Sugar was found Nil"—which means a perfect cure of the obstinate disease which had baffled the treatment of many Doctors and Physicians before. I really consider that Dr S Rangaswami Iyengar is a SPECIALIST in this disease. I recommend him to all suffering from the bad disease for the rare quality and of its valuable drugs.

Mr. Damodhar Raghoba Raote, Landlord, Worli, Bombay, writes on 3rd December 1920:—"I was suffering from Diabetes for the last 12 years and I tried many well known Doctors and M.D.'s during that period, but could not get entire cure. In September last I had a severe attack of Pneumonia which seriously affected my Diabetes disease and was under the treatment of Dr. Masina. I was cured of Pneumonia after a short time but my Diabetes disease was in an increasing state and I could get no relief. Dr. Masina examined my urine and found I was passing 6 to 7 per cent. sugar and specific gravity was 1037. Finding no relief at all, I was put under treatment of Dr. S. Rangaswami Iyengar, Specialist in Diabetes. I have much pleasure to say that after a special treatment of 35 days I found my Diabetes disease properly checked and sugar NIL and Specific Gravity 1013. "I can safely recommend Dr Iyengar's specific to any of the suffering Diabetes patients."

BOMBAY MARKET.

COTTON.

(From our Correspondent.)

Bombay, February 18.

The Marwari Bazar opened this morning for fully good M.G. Broach at Rs. 312½ and remained steady with very little fluctuations At 3 p.m. the rate was Rs. 311½ and finally closed at Rs. 312

At Colaba the market opened at Rs 311½ and closed at Rs. 314.

Our market for ready cotton yesterday was steady but today owing to the decline advised from America there is again a quiet feeling looking to the increasing stock and moderate demand from exporters for ready cotton we would advise our friends to sell their stocks at current rates.

PIECE-GOODS.

The Cloth Market has been dull and quiet during the past week. Rupee rates for several well-known cloths have been easier and are showing a tendency to slide down, in the absence of demand. Buyers have been watching the developements and are awaiting a lower level of value in which to operate. Sellers are afraid to cut down the rates substantially, as the loss to be faced is too heavy. MULJI JETHA FIRE.

ALLEGATIONS AGAINST BRIGADE MEN NOT UNTRUE.

"GOOD LESSON TAUGHT."

A meeting of the Municipal Corporation was held yesterday, Mr. V. A. Dabholkar presiding. The attendance of members was very poor, and there was very little discussion throughout. The Municipal Commissioner admitted in the course of his letter, in regard to the Mulji Jetha Market Fire, that the Fire Brigade men had accepted sums, though they were not very large ones. But in spite of a large reward offered by him not a single person had come forward to furnish him with information leading to prove the guilt of any man.

COMING CENSUS.

The Corporation considered the Medical Relief Committee's report about the forthcoming census in the course of which it was stated:—

After careful consideration of these forms in conjunction with the Executive Health Officer, the Sub-Committee were of opinion that special information regarding beggars should be collected. The Committee to recommend that Government be requested to share with the Corporation the cost of collecting and tabulating special information in regard to beggars.

The Committee further beg to recommend that religious mendicants should be distinguished from other beggars and be described by their appropriate designation, e.g. Sadhus, Fakirs, etc., and that prostitutes should be dealt with separately and not included in the beggar class. They also recommend that beggars should be divided by sexes and that each sex should be sub-divided by age into two age periods namely under 16 years and 16 years and upwards. As regards the forms on which this information would be collected the Committee recommend that this matter may be left to the Executive Health Officer and that he be authorized to organise the enumeration in consultation with the Commissioner of Police.

The report was adopted and another column added to the forms for the inclusion of factories, mills, dispensaries etc.

HOUSE NUMBERS.

The Corporation considered a letter from Mr. D. E. Bharucha complaining that the number plates on houses were very small, and suggesting that the numbers should be painted every year, and should be visible enough.

To this the Commissioner had stated:

"That a proper system of revising the street numbers in the city has been devised and is already being given effect to. The use of aluminium plates in place of the present type was approved by the Corporation and the work of substitution is in progress. The size of these plates is sufficiently large with the letters about 3" in height standing out in relief from the surface. The system of numbering is simple and is that generally adopted in large cities. The streets are numbered in one direction, either from north to south, or from east to west, according to the direction in which they ran. Odd numbers are given to the houses on one side of the street and even numbers to those on the other side. In streets running north to south, odd numbers are fixed on the left hand (east) side, and even numbers on the right hand side. Similarly for streets running east to west, odd numbers are on the left (south) side, and even numbers on the right (north) side. The scheme as put into operation can be seen in Fort North where the work has been mostly completed."

Mr. B. N Motiwalla moved that Mr Bharucha be informed in the terms of the Commissioner's letter. The motion was adopted.

MULJI JETHA FIRE.

The Commissioner had reported as under regarding the allegations of payment of bribes to the men of the Fire Brigade at the time of the Mulji Jetha Market fire:

"I have the strongest reason to believe that though such sums were paid in some cases their amounts were in no case large in spite of the extravagant rumours which were prevalent at the time and that they were not in any case demanded by the members of the Fire Brigade, but were offered voluntarily by merchants who were anxious to save their own particular shops or to retrieve valuables from them. This fact though it does not in any degree lessen the criminality of the offence committed by the members of the Brigade, who are public servants under Section 521 of the Municipal Act, does go a little way to furnish an excuse for their conduct. I am, however, in entire agreement with the views expressed by various speakers in the Corporation that such conduct can, under no circumstances, be allowed and every member of the Fire Brigade has been warned that he will be dismissed without hesitation if he can be reasonably presumed to have been guilty of any such offence even strict legal proof be not forthcoming. I have warned the responsible officers of the Brigade that they must be careful to report any conduct which may be suspicious and have arranged to take certain measures which will, I believe, prevent in future the receipt of such sums on any considerable scale.

I offered by public advertisements a reward not exceeding Rs. 5,000 as authorised by the Corporation for information which might lead to the proof of the guilt of any person or persons in the Fire Brigade. I also made independent enquiries and followed up every clue which presented itself to me, but I have received not the slightest assistance from the members of the public and merchants who, I had reason to believe, were in a position to supply information, though I have been careful to let them know that their information would be treated as confidential. In the one case in which I was offered what appeared to be genuine information against one of the superior staff, I was satisfied after exhaustive enquiries that the officer in question had received the money of which he was in possession at the time of the fire from a perfectly legitimate source. Several of the leading citizens of Bombay who have been good enough to offer me assistance in the matter have at the last been faced by a blank refusal on the part of their informants to enter into any details and I can only express my sincere disappointment at the lack of public spirit which I have encountered. In the course of my enquiries I have utilised only a very small amount of the funds put at my disposal by the Corporation, but I believe that the fact that the reward was offered cannot fail to have a good effect as it was clear proof to the public that the Corporation accepted my view that it was necessary to stop such practices at any cost. It would be inexpedient for me to report the exact measures which I propose to take to prevent any repetition of the occurrence, but I hope and believe they will be successful."

Mr. N. M. Dumasia, in moving that the letter be recorded, said they were thankful to the Commissioner for the way in which he had carried on the enquiry. He deplored the want of public spirit displayed by the citizens in the matter.

The Commissioner said his enquiries were not successful because the public had not come forward to help him with the necessary information. But a great deal of good had been done by the publicity given to the whole matter. He thought a good lesson had been taught to the Fire Brigade men which they would not forget easily.

The motion was adopted.

The Corporation then adjourned.

NO CHANGE IN THE SITUATION.

RAILWAYMEN'S DEPUTATION SEES SUPERINTENDENT.

The strike of the B. B. and C. I. Railway Company's workshop people at Parel, is still continuing without any change whatsoever. Yesterday too the men collected at the open space near the Mahaluxmi Station and waited for a reply from the authorities for some time and then dispersed. There was no disturbance of any kind during the day, and no reply was also forthcoming from the authorities with regard to the men's demands for a house allowance, and an assurance that their gratuity will not be forfeited in case of strikes.

Another deputation of the men saw the Works Superintendent yesterday but the result of the interview has not transpired as yet.

The petrol workers of Sewri and the men of the Mackenzie Saw Mill too are holding firm in their atitude of "no bonus, no work."

TRAMWAY WORKERS.

READY TO STRIKE FOR RECOGNITION OF UNION.

Two mass meeting of Tramway workers were held in the Union's office at Parel on Saturday and Sunday last. Mr. Chaman Lall presided at the first and Mr. Dalvi at the second. The following resolutions were passed.

"This meeting of the members of the Tramway Workers Union strongly resents the attitude adopted by the officials of the Tramway Company in refusing recognition of the Tramway Workers' Union."

"This meeting declares its complete confidence in the office bearers of the Union, Messrs. J. Baptista President, Chaman Lall Vice President and M. D. Dalvi, Chief Secretary."

"That this meeting states its emphatic opinion that the workers have every right to form a Union of their own choice unfettered by the restrictive conditions dictated by the employers."

"That this meeting authorizes Messrs. Baptista, Dalvi and Chaman Lall to draw up and forward a suitable reply to the Company's notice which lays down restrictive conditions of recognition such as are not to be found in the constitution of any other Tramway Union in India."

"That this meeting declares that in order to obtain recognition of their duly constituted Union, the men, if necessary, will declare a general strike."

NO IMPROVEMENT IN SERVICE POSSIBLE.

The General Traffic Manager, B. B. an C. I. Rly., announces that the Company will be unable to make any improvemen in the existing Local and Race Special services until further notice.

Elia Ganpat, a cartman, was yesterda charged by prosecuting Inspector Finan, the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr Frank Oliveira, with causing the death one Pimliya Bhayaji by a rash act.

The accused was convicted and sentence to pay a fine of Rs. 150. The fine, if recovered, was ordered to go to the widow of the deceased.

PIECEGOODS MERCHANTS AND EXCHANGE.

TOMORROW'S MEETING.

Some six weeks ago, the Native Piecegoods Merchants' Association, of which Mr. Manmohandas Ramji is the President, passed a resolution to the effect that the members of the Association should not clear the bills unless the Exchange level reached at least two shillings as fixed by Government, and prohibiting members from bidding at auction sales held at the risk of defaulting indentors. This resolution was brought about by Government's Currency policy. Since then, the position has not improved in any way and the market conditions have remained dull, with little or no business doing. The attitude taken up by the members is not one of repudiating their contracts, but they say it is merely one of accommodation, just as at the beginning of the war, when trade conditions became unsettled, they had in response to representations of the officewallahs, shown consideration to the latter. An attempt, it seems, is being made to misrepresent the attitude of the Indian Merchants, whose hands have been forced by events over which they have no control. Mr. Manmohandas Ramji, who is now in Delhi, is said to have telegraphed to the Secretaries of the Association to convene a meeting of the members. The Secretaries wired back to him explaining the position here and stating that if it was his wish that such a meeting should be called, they would do so. Mr. Manmohandas replied in the affirmative, adding that he would be coming down to Bombay today and attend the meeting. A meeting is now about to be called for tomorrow (Sunday) to reconsider among other things, their former resolution. It is believed that during his stay at Delhi, representations have been made to Mr. Manmohandas by the representatives of European trade and that he is coming here with a view to get the resolution rescinded. The feeling among the members, however, appears to be very strong that the position since they passed the resolution, has, in no way, changed for the better to justify their reconsidering it. Most of them seem to be practically agreed and even firm—that the only way of relieving the tension of the situation is to stabilize the Exchange at the level prescribed by the Government resolution on the Currency Committee Report, viz., two shillings per rupee.

THE DUKE'S VISIT.

HARTAL OR HONOUR.

As the wording of the resolution passed by the Mulji Jetha Market for people for closing their shops on the 21st, 23rd and 28th instant was rather vague and it has been interpreted by some few to mean the closing of shops in honour of the Duke's visit, contrary to the views of the majority, enquiries were made of the Secretaries of the Association but no satisfactory replies were received, though one of the Secrtaries was of opinion that it was a hartal and not closing in honour of the Duke's visit. It seems to have been an unfortunate slip that the wording was not made clear. With a view to elucidate the point, a meeting of the Board has been convened for today at the Mulji Jaitha Market Hall, and unless it is going to be a hartal, it is said that the majority of the members will refuse to close their shops on those days.

It is interesting to learn that the Marwari Chamber has also resolved to suspend business. The resolution, which is said to reiterate the mandate of the Congress, is clearly worded and no room is left for misunderstanding or wrong interpretation.

HOW RECEPTIONS ARE MANIPULATED

Reference has been made to how receptions in honour of the Duke of Connaught are being manufactured. In this connection, mention may be made that some parties by "private individuals" are being arranged. The funniest thing about it all appears to be the desire of the authorities to secure the attendance only of persons whose antecedents are approved by the Police. In one case, it is said, that a certain gentleman, who is to give a garden party in honour of the Duke, had to submit the list of ladies and gentlemen that are to be invited on the occasion; the list was submitted and that the test applied by the Police Commissioner was so rigid that the number was reduced from four or five hundred to the modest dimension of less than two hundred. This incident, and there is every reason to believe it, throws some interesting sidelights on the curious mentality of those responsible for stage-managing the Duke's reception in Bombay.

N. C. O, MEETING OF SHARE BROKERS.

All interested are requested to be present.

MASS MEETING OF BOMBAY WORKERS.

Two mass meetings of Bombay Workers (Tramway, Mill-hands; B. B. & C. I. Railway, Port Trust, Oil Companies, Mackenzie Mill, etc.) will be held in Munji Shet's Wadi at Chinchpokli on Saturday, 4 p.m. and Sunday 7 p.m. under the presidentship of Mr. Joseph Baptista to discuss the strike situation in General and to decide upon concerted action for the protection of the workers rights.

Volunteers are kindly requested to attend at 6-45 sharp and 3-30 p.m. respectively.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.
Saturday, February 19, 1921.

GOKHALE & SIR WILLIAM VINCENT.

Sir William Vincent, to whom, we see, Mrs. Besant gives a gratuitous certificate that he "has whole-heatrtedly accepted the spirit of the Reform Act" was guilty of a clear and grievous injustice to the memory of Gokhale, when he said that the latter was one of th supporters of the Seditious Meetings Act. We are amazed that Si William's memory on this important point should have played him false If Sir William will refer to the files of the Council proceedings of those days he will find that in none of the speeches which Gokhale made in the years 1907 1910 and 1911, when the Seditious Meetings Bill in its various forms was under consideration, did he offer his support to the Bill. On the other hand, from first to last, he was opposed to the passing of the measure, both because of the extreme harshness of its provisions and the total absence of urgency for its adoption. Here is an extract from his speech made in November 1907 in the Supreme Legislative Council when Sir H. Adamson moved that the Select Committee's Report on the Bill be taken into consideration:—

> The Bill is a dangerous one, and the only satisfactory way to improve it is to drop it. But more than the Bill itself is, to my mind, the policy that lies behind the Bill. I consider this policy to be in the highest degree unwise. It will fail in India as surely as it has failed everywhere else in the world. It will plant in the minds of the people harsh memories which even time may not soften. It will by no means facilitate the work of the administration, and it will, in all probability, enhance the very evil which it is intended to control."

Every one of the warnings conveyed in this extract has been justified by the experience of the last twelve years of administration of this hateful measure showing that the departed patriot did not underrate the evil consequences of its adoption. Later during the same session, when the Bill as amended came up for consideration, and on 6th August 1910 when Mr. Jenkins moved that the Bill to provide for the continuation of the Prevention of Seditious Meetingss Act, 1907, be taken into consideration, Gokhale's opposition to the measure was no less vehement than when the original Bill was first introduced. On the latter occasion, in an eloquent peroration, Gokhale said:—

> My Lord, it will, I am convinced, be a grave blunder to place the Seditious Meetings Act permanently on the Statute-book or to propose a further lease of life to it after March next, and I earnestly implore the Government to abandon the idea if they have it . . . . . Not the heavy hand of coercion, but the gentle touch of conciliation and sympathy, of forbearance and oblivion—this is what the situation requires; and I earnestly trust these healing influences will be forthcoming in an ample measure to obliterate bitter memories and start the country again on a career of prosperity and progress.

But all these eloquent and pathetic appeals fell on the deaf ears of the bureaucracy—the same bureaucracy which now wants the world to believe that its administration was not and is not based on the principles of force and terrorism and which falsely invokes the name of a dead patriot to redeem its past. Sir William Vincent will discover further that in March 1911 when the Act was sought to be again amended Gokhale opposed the attempt as strongly and consistently as on the previous occasions. We hope some one of Sir William's Colleagues in Council will draw his attention to his error and induce him to make proper amends to the memory of the dead patriot and statesman.

Notes of the Day.

India in the King's Speech.

There was nothing striking in the reference to India in the King's Speech at the reopening of Parliament beyond the pious hope, of the usual type, that the assumption by Indians of new political responsibilities will secure "progress in administration" and "early appeasement of political strife." The world knows full well, of course, that on these ceremonial occasions His Majesty merely reads out speech drafted by his Ministers and that he is no more responsible for the merits or demerits of the speech than we are. If there are any shortcomings in the speech the responsibility lies not on the Crown but on His Majesty's constitutional advisers. If the present reference to the situation in India is extremely disappointing, we ought really set it down to the failure of the Secretary of State and the rest of his colleagues of the Cabinet to appreciate to the full the gravity of the situation in India. The bankruptcy of British statesmanship in the crisis facing them in the territories of their subject peoples is once more illustrated in the pronouncements which have been put in th months of His Majesty and H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught. The parliamentary occasion, however, was used by several Liberal and Conservative Members of Parliament to utter some more fatuous platitudes about "the great new adventure" in India. Even so veteran a statesman as Mr. Asquith seemed to be little less informed about the aspirations and struggles of India than His Majesty himself. And yet British statesmen imagine themselves quite competent to govern 315 millions from a distance of 6,000 miles.

Silly.

We are informed that the following telegram addressed to Mrs. Yakub Hasan Madras, and handed in to the branch telegraph office at Malabar Hill, Bombay, on Wednesday last, for despatch, was returned to the sender by the telegraph clerk in charge, who declared that he had instructions to refuse to accept such "objectionable" messages for transmission:—

> "Your presence at meeting of Women of Bombay for boycott (of) Duke's visit on 20th, 3 p.m. essential. Wire reply.—Atiya Begum, Ridge Road."

Atiya Begum, it may be stated, is a sister of the Begum of Janjira and has been taking a prominent part in the women's movements in Bombay. She has been elected to preside over the public meeting of the Women of Bombay on Sunday next to protest against the "welcome" that is being engineered by the bureaucracy in the name of the Indian people. The Telegraph Department by its silly action has only further demonstrated the paramount need of carrying on the struggle for the attainment of Swaraj, which will automatically put an end to the autocracy of this Department along with that of the rest of the branches of the administration. We may be sure that the lesson of the episode will not be lost on the Women of Bombay.

H. H. the Agha Khan and "Representatives"

In connection with the departure for England of H. H. the Agha Khan to-day, we are authorised to state that though his Highness's departure is not unconnected with the approaching Conference in London on the Eastern Question, he is going to England as a private individual. An official status in connection with the Conference was, we understand, proposed to him; but he declined the proposal, believing that he could do better service to the cause which Indian Muslims have at heart if he went in a private capacity; since his views, though entirely pro-Turkish, are his own, and he does not claim that they are "representative" of the views of Indian Muslims as a whole. We will only observe, en passant, that his Highness's views as shown on many occasions since the armistice are far more nearly in accord with the views of the majority of Indian Muslims than those which are commonly ascribed to Mr. Hasan Imam, who, we understand, has already started for Europe as a government-appointed representative. We are curious to see whether the man whom we, and we believe the Indian Muslims, would choose to represent them, Mr. Mohamed Ali being vetoed, in a Conference of the Powers—Hakim Ajmal Khan of Delhi, "the greatest gentleman in India," as he has been called—and Dr. Ansari will be "invited" by the Government.

The Fruit of Cooperation.

The members of the New Council are not to be introduced to the Duke of Connaught. It is said that many of them are beginning to wonder whether it is really worth while to cooperate with Government. The copy of a letter from Mr. D. R. Norman, I.C.S., Secretary to the Bombay Legislative Council to a member who had written to inquire about this matter, has been handed to us. Here it is:—

> "Sir, your letter dated 10-2-1921, I am directed to say that though members of the Legislative Council are to be invited to all functions and given good places, it will not be possible to introduce them to H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught. I am to add that according to present arrangements, members of the Legislative Council rank after officers included in Article 53 of the Warrant of Precedence.
>
> I have, etc.,
>
> (Signed) D. R. NORMAN."

As the Duke is coming to Bombay on account of the Legislative Council, it does seem a little hard that the members of that Council should, in the matter of an introduction to H. R. H., rank after officers included in Article 53, i.e., Senior Chaplains of the Church of Scotland! We expect to see them Non-Cooperating, when the time arrives.

All-India War Memorial.

We are assured that the "All-India War Memorial" at Delhi is "solely Indian in its purpose." And yet for its general idea we have to go the Arc de Triomphe in Paris. The idea of the stone bowl on its top has been, we are told, adopted with success "elsewhere". We can understand Sir Edwin Lutyen's affection for the Cenotaph—the "simple and restrained" character of the memorial can be explained by the same reasons as were given at the time when the Cenotaph was first discussed. It is not necessary at present to describe the Cenotaph. But we must say that Sir Edwin can do worse than follow national traditions. He is a slave to his own traditions. It is possible that he might attempt his pet tricks once too often. Piers and steps are devices that might be considered as having appropriately brought in something fresh in the building of country houses like Marsh Court in England. India, however is not England. She has moreover distinct architectural traditions.

Lord Willingdon's Ways.

Of all the provincial administrations, barring, of course, that of Burma, Lord Willingdon's Government would appear to be the least inclined to effect a change in the angle of its vision. On the other hand, by availing itself of every opportunity that offers to accentuate the gap between Brahmins and non-Brahmins and other mutually hostile elements, it is merrily carrying on the game of divide et impera in that benighted Presidency. When the Council elections were held and he had to form a Ministry, Lord Willingdon exercised his privilege with such open and unashamed partiality for one section of the community, on the preposterous plea that that community being "the party in power." Encouraged, no doubt, by the success of this novel manoeuvre in the game of divide et impera, Lord Willingdon's Government has proceeded to make further attempts in the same direction, with the consequence that its Council is now thoroughly imbued with the "party" spirit and its debates are being carried on in the true "party politics" style. Lord Willingdon has appointed all the three secretaries of the Councils from "the party in power" and it seems probable that the Deputy President of the Council will also be chosen from the same party. This is, indeed, playing the game of "party politics" with a vengeance! What the political views of the Secretaries have to do with the business of the Council which they have to mind may be somewhat puzzling to find out, but Lord Willingdon's ideas of administration are, no doubt, of the approved bureaucratic pattern, inasmuch as they best serve the purposes of the bureaucracy. We would suggest to this "great and "successful" Governor that he should not rest satisfied till he has non-Brahminised all the public services in pursuance of his admirable policy of making the administration truly representative of "the party in power."

Poor Policemen!

A press communique just issued by the Government of Behar and Orissa announces that an "improved" scale of pay has been sanctioned for the police constables in the province. The new scale, we are told, rises from Rs. 15 to Rs. 20 per month by increments of Re. 1, after 3, 7, 10, 15 and 20 years' service. That is to say, a constable, who on entering the service will draw Rs. 15 per month, will after twenty years of loyal and continued service, be entitled to draw a magnificent salary of Rs. 20 per month. We read further that "all other existing allowances will remain unaffected, except the grain compensation allowance which will be discontinued with effect from the date of the introduction of the new scale of pay." We do not know when the scale of pay was last revised and how much the grain compensation allowance amounted to. Looking to the slenderness of the pay itself, the allowance could not have been more than two or three rupees at the most. In the new scale, while the actual initial pay is raised by not more than five rupees, the grain compensation allowance is struck off, so that, in the bargain, the wretched policeman stands to gain not more than two or three rupees at the most, in order to cope with the high prices of the necessaries of life of himself and his family. No doubt, the State provides him with free lodging and clothing, but can it be contended for a moment that on Rs. 15 per month it is possible for the constable to feed his own and his family's mouths? Serving on these starvation wages, is it any wonder that the Indian policeman should be what he is,—the dregs of society? Is it surprising that instead of being the guardian of the peace, he should turn out by rapid degrees to be a veritable tyrant, seeking to compensate himself for the niggardliness of the State by preying upon peaceful citizens? Cynics will, perhaps, declare that only by keeping this class of servants in a state of such perpetual wretchedness is the State able to extract from them the sort of service they render. But, even if such be the case, the decencies of humanity, at least, require to be observed and we emphatically assert that the wages that are being paid to the Indian police in many parts of the country are a disgrace to humanity and civilisation.

Our Absolute Monarchs.

How some of our "progressive and "enlightened" Indian princes and their durbars are fulfilling their responsibilities to the people entrusted to their "charge" and "are striving ever for the greater happiness and progress of their own subjects," may be seen in certain happenings reported from Indore, Jamnagar and the Rajkot Civil Station. Here is an illuminating press communique issued last week by the Indore Durbar:—

> Rai Bahadur Ram Prasad and Mr. Madhaw Prasad Dube, formerly high officials of Indore who were exiled from the state have been deprived of their property and Jagir on a charge of gross misbehaviour, seditious misconduct and agitation against his highness and his State and family.

No comment is necessary on this conspicuous proof furnished by the Indore Durbar of its "striving for the greater happiness and progress of its subjects." The Durbar is, no doubt, well apprised of the fact that the authorities in British India are armed with weapons of absolutism, similar to those which it has of late been wielding, in regard to the life and property of their "subjects." Only, in the case of the former the farce of a trial is deemed necessary, as during the Reign of Terror in the Punjab, before the victim is sent to his doom, while in some of these Indian States such highly inconvenient and dilatory process is dispensed with contemptuously. The Rai Bahadur and his fellow victim need not waste their energies in attempting to secure redress, for it would be sheer folly to expect to get it.

The Jam's Protector.

Nearer home, another Indian State, Jamnagar, has also lately demonstrated its concern for the greater happiness and progress of its "Subjects." Our readers may have read how the State Police, on the advice, no doubt, of those who are running the State in the absence of the Ruler on a more "momentous" mission abroad, dispersed with a baton charge a peaceful meeting of the inhabitants of the City who had assembled to hear an address from the honorary secretary of the Kathiawar Political Conference on "Native States." To suggest that any resistance was offered to the police order for dispersal, before recourse to the baton was made by the police, would be quite unnecessary, as no "subject" in a "Native State" has dreamed or would dream of doing so as yet. Our readers would also see that the Agent to the Governor in Kathiawar, prompted, doubtless, by a laudable desire, worthy of a ma-bap Suzerain Power, to afford all possible protection to its ward, the persecuted Jamnagar State, has prohibited the territory like the Rajkot Civil Station, on the ground that "agitation against the action of a particular State" is undesirable there. The public of the Station, however, had enough sense of humour as well as of politics, to turn the tables on the Agent, by dispersing as per the Agent's order and reassembling again at the same place and in even greater numbers, to denounce the Agent's action. We hope the irony of the episode will not be lost at least on the Agent.

Superior Grades on Railways.

One of the many disabilities under which intelligent railwaymen, both Indian and Anglo-Indian, labour, is the hidden barrier precluding them from rising to responsible positions of higher grade, although equipped with the necessary qualifications and many years of experience. The practice of recruiting mere school boys in England, with hardly any educational attainments, and placing them over hoary-headed men, ripe with knowledge of railway working, has been the cause of much heart-burning for many years. One rarely comes across isolated cases of officers recruited in this country from amongst the subordinates and these are few and far between and their selection is, in the majority of cases, due more to patronage than personal merit. The Indian railways appear to be reserved avenues towards aggrandisement and hoarding of wealth for the kinsmen of railway magnates, who are found unfit for the much-coveted posts in the I.C.S.—Police—I.M.S.—Army or Navy. The opinion inwardly entertained by the majority of intelligent railwaymen is that the Indian Railways are grazing grounds for all the refused cattle that fails to fetch any price in the English market. To appoint inexperienced youths on probation when trained men are available, and pay them for several years to learn their work, is, to say the least, playing fast and loose with the tax-payers' money against which the public have every right to protest.

COMMON'S ADDRESS IN REPLY TO KING'S SPEECH.

BRITAIN'S GREATEST GOOD WILL TO INDIA.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.
Recd. 9-30 a.m. Feb. 18.

In the House of Commons. Mr. J. C Davidson moving the address in reply to the speech from Throne said amongst other things:—

"The thanks of country are due to the Duke of Connaught, who on His Majesty's behalf has inaugurated the new Council in India. In undertaking this important task he has once again shown that unselfish devotion to duty of which the beloved Royal Family daily give evidence. (Cheers) The House would share His Majesty's hop that these changes will bring progress political peace in their train."

Sir Luke Fildes seconding declared that the whole House and the Empire would be delighted if success attended the efforts of the new Councils and if they made for the great good of the Indian Empire. He thought it would be well to remember the great services given to India and the Empire in the bygone days by a body of men remarkable, for their earnestness and efficiency namely the Indian Civil Service. They had fought pestilence and famine and had done great administrative work with one unselfish idea of doing thei best for the great Indian Empire.

Mr. Asquith referring to India said he could only say without any distinction of party that Great Britain had looked with the greatest goodwill and most sanguine expectations to the great new adventure there. For himself—and he was sure he was re-echoing everybody's opinion—he thought it of the very greatest advantage to the Empire that the early critical stages of that adventure should be presided over by a man of the sagacity experience and popular sympathies of Lord Reading. (Cheers).

DEBATE ON COMMONS' ADDRESS.

Both the mover and the seconder of the address of the House Commons in reply to the speech from the Throne referred to the forthcoming Imperial conference as likely to benefit the Empire and the world. They paid a tribute to the magnificent result of the Prince of Wales' tour. They welcomed the inauguration of the new legislaures in India.

Mr. Asquith drew attention to the omissions in the Kings' speech of references to the Paris conference and Mesopotamia. He asked for information regarding the new Middle East Department and the Milner report on Egypt. He said that the appointment of Lord Reading to preside over the early critical stages of reforms in India would be most advantageous to the Empire. Mr. Asquith, concluded by asking for information with regard to General Strickland's report of the burnings in Cork.

Mr. Thomas drew attention to the serious situation in Ireland and the absence of mention of the Government reprisals in the Kins' speech. He demanded an independent enquiry into the shooting of the railwaymen after the attack on Inspector King and the murder of his wife at Mallow on January 29th, not because they were trade unionist railwaymen, but because they were Irish citizens and entitled to the protection of law.

PREMIER'S REPLY.

Mr. Lloyd George replying pointed out the undesirability at present of debating the reparations in view of the imminence of the most important series of conferences in London. Moreover, we did not yet know the nature of the German counter-proposals. There would not be anything new in the Middle East Department which would probably be under the Colonial Office.

The Milner report would be laid on the table but the Government were not prepared to say to what extent they would adopt the recommendations until they had conferred with the Egyptian Ministers, who had up to the present not been consulted officially.

The Strickland report was drawn up for the Government's information and not for publication. It showed that the auxiliaries committed acts of indiscipline, whereupon the lower class civilians joined in looting. The Government had taken very stern action against the auxiliaries dismissing seven suspected men, suspending the officer in command and dissolving the rest of the company. The Government would be glad to have truce in Ireland, but that was not when the rebels had surrendered their arms. The efforts to restore order had met with considerable success during the past two months. The Premier undertook to examine the Mallow incident very closely.

NAVY ARMY AND AIR FORCES

AMENDMENT FOR JOINT ADVISORY COMMITTEE WITHDRAWN.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

Seconding the amendment to the speech from the Throne moved by Mr. Davidson urging the appointment of permanent joint advisory technical committee to consider the question of co-ordinating the Navy, the Army, and the Air Forces, Mr. Hunter-Weston made a plea for the necessity of such a body on which the Dominions should be represented.

Mr. Lloyd George replying expressed sympathy with the proposal but suggested that the matter should be left over for the Imperial Conference, because it was too much to ask these small islands with gigantic burdens they were bearing to undertake the defence of the whole Empire. When we were in trouble the Empire helped us. Over a million men came from India voluntarily and vast numbers from other parts but that was a spasmodic effort. The solidarity of the Empire was a guarantee against further shedding of blood since the sword would never have been drawn had the planners of the war known what the British Empire would do. Consequently we must make common cause not to involve the Dominions or India in our quarrels but to ensure common action in the event of a just quarrel. The amendment was withdrawn.

PREMIER'S REPLY TO CRITICISM.

COUNSEL OF PATIENCE ON IRISH QUESTION.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

In reply to the criticisms of the speech from the Throne, Mr. Lloyd George welcomed the intimation that Germany was submitting counter-proposals with a real desire to liquidate the future liabilities but conference would by no means take the form of revision or recasting of the Peace Treaty. Undoubtedly the Treaty of Sevres would come up for discussion in the Near East Conference, the British representatives at which would be animated by the supreme desire to establish world wide peace, subject to the paramount obligation to secure the rights of the long-suffering Christian populations in Turkey. Seeing that the Egyptian question was vital to the whole Empire, to the peace of the Middle East and perhaps to our future relations with India, the Government would have liked to consult the representatives of the Dominions as well as Egyptian ministers before committing themselves regarding Lord Milner's report.

Mr. Lloyd George adverting to Ireland emphasised the difficulties confronting the Executive on account of the continued reticence of the people. Outlining the conversations which he had with Archbishop Clunie, who was imbued with the most loyal sentiments towards the Empire Mr. Lloyd George agreed as to the necessity for negotiating truce, because once the murder campaign stopped it would never be renewed Nevertheless those responsible for order who ran great personal risks were strongly opposed to truce without the express condition that arms should be surrendered. This Sinn Fein refused to do, thus accepting the responsibility for the continuance of hostilities. Although he admitted that the murders and outrages casualty list was still heavy it was noteworthy that the casualties now occurred because the police were pursuing the rebels into wild places, whereas six months ago they were shot down in the streets of Dublin. The Premier counselled patience. He was confiden that order would be restored in Ireland and with it Irish liberty

LORD READING'S TASK.

"DAILY TELEGRAPH'S" FEARS.

PLEA FOR VINDICATION OF AUTHORITY OF LAW.

(REUTER'S CRICKET SPECIAL.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.
Recd. 9-30 a.m. Feb. 18.

In the course of a leading article on the "New Era in India" after praising the high note of the ardent and sincere feeling in the speeches of the Duke of Connaught and Lord Chelmsford at Delhi last week and the speech by Lord Reading at the farewell dinner, the "Daily Telegraph" refers to Lord Reading's plea for sympathy and generosity towards India and says that ge nerosity is an excellent supplement but cannot always be relied upon as a sound substitute for the vindication of authority and enforcement of law.

The paper fears that Mr. Gandhi and his fellow-zealots, who seek to extirpate English influence from India will not be reconciled by the prospect of assisting in the government of the country under the supervision of Englishmen. Besides watching the development of the new constitution Lord Reading has another task, less congenial and more difficult. Sympathy and tolerance must not be blighted by the poisonous spread of fanatical and revolutionary agitation.

Recd. 9-30 a.m., Feb. 18.

The "Daily Telegraph's" Paris correspondent says it is confirmed that the London and Paris Governments have recently exchanged views with regard to the Emir Feisal and it appears that while Britain will not support the Emir Feisal in Syria and even favours the selection of another Arab prince for the new kingdom of Mesopotamia, it cannot absolutely pledge itself not to recognise the Emir Feisal as the King of Mesopotamia in any circumstances.

EMPIRE SITUATION.

LORD CURZON'S SURVEY.

GLOWING TRIBUTE TO DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.
Recd. 11-30 a.m., Feb. 18.

Speaking in the House of Lords, Lord Curzon declared that the condition of Europe was undoubtedly brighter than last year, but unfortunately this did not apply to Asia. Various New European countries, the boundaries of which were now practically settled, were busily occupied in building up their national existence. He expressed the opinion that there should be no difficulty in reaching a trade agreement with the Soviets.

Referring to the forthcoming meeting of the Dominion premiers Lord Curzon favourably reviewed the previous Imperial discussions. He said he considered the Imperial War Cabinet had been an important factor in winning the war.

Lord Curzon paid a warm tribute to the Duke of Connaught whose proceedings in India were the latest in a long career of public service, which marked him as one of the most eminent public servants of our time, while his utterances have been characteriged as being not only statesmanship of high order but full of powerful and moving eloquence.

NEW STATES SETTLING DOWN TO USEFUL LIFE.

REFERENCE TO IMPERIAL CABINET CONFERENCES.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.
Recd. 10-30 a.m., Feb. 18.

Speaking in the House of Lords, Lord Curzon said that Franco-British co-operation, which was at present the main factor in the peace of Europe, remained unimpaired. The manful efforts of the new states, notwithstanding their lack of resources and experience, had evoked keen sympathy. Finland, Latvia, Esthonia, Lithuania, Czecho-Slovakia, Jugo-Slavia and Rumania, all had practically composed their difficulties with their neighbours and were settling down to useful life, Austria alone presenting anxiety.

RUSSIA'S RECOVERY.

With regard to Russia the real chance of recovery lay in the economic arrangements which tended to preclude the possibility of a war, Britain's only concern during the course of the negotiations had been to ensure that trade relations were made with a people, who would act in a friendly way and not engage in hostile action in the distant parts of the world.

Lord Curzon described the Imperial Cabinet as the new powerful organ of the Government. All the members, being invested with full authority, made the decisions not merely those of the British Government but of the British Empire. He recalled how at previous meetings we not merely received valuable counsels from the Dominion ministers but their presence and co-operation were an immense addition to the moral and material strength of the Empire. The Conferences were not less important during the peace time. The main desire, actuating the members of that body, was that this amazing congress of independent states of free nationalities which were held together by mere silken thread by the sense that all had a common mission in the world and owed loyalty to the King, should be bound by even closer ties. The forthcoming meeting, to which Lord Curzon was looking forward, would deal with the Naval, Military and Air defences, the foreign policy of the Empire and the future constitutional organisation of this great fabric.

FRENCH TRADE UNIONIST.

REVOLTING AGAINST COMMUNISM.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 16.
Recd. 11-30 a.m., Feb. 18.

Paris telegrams indicate that the French trade unionists are revolting against Communism. The documents seized at the offices of the Communist Federation in Paris resulted in the arrest of M. Laporte, Secretary of the Federation and M. Williams, manager of a Communist newspaper, who is accused of inciting soldiers to disobedience and anarchist propaganda. The papers seized show that the anti-militarist agitators in France have been conducting a campaign with the object of detaching the French Colonies from the Mother Country, while a similar campaign has been started in some British Colonies and protectorates.

DUKE'S VISIT IN BOMBAY.

GIRGAUM WARD DECIDES TO BOYCOTT.

NO RECEPTION WHEN WRONGS ARE UNREDRESSED.

PROTEST AGAINST CORPORATION'S RESOLVE.

A public meeting of the residents and rate-payers of the Girgaum Ward was held on Friday night at Jiteker's Wadi, to express their determination not to participate in the functions held in honour of the Duke of Connaught and to protest against the action of the Corporation in connection with his visit. The audience was very large numbering several thousands. Seth Narandas Purshottamdas presided.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

The Chairman said the meeting was for the purpose of protesting against the action of the Corporation in voting an address to the Duke. The result of this action was that they (the public) had resolved to send only such persons in future to the Corporation who would act according to the wishes of the public

Mr. Revashanker Jagjivan then moved the following resolution:—

"In view of the Resolution of the Nagpur Congress this meeting of the Residents and Rate-payers of the Girgaum Ward hereby expresses its determination not to participate in any way in the functions and festivities held in honour of H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught and emphatically protests against the resolution of the Corporation voting him an address in direct contravention of the wishes of the people of this country."

Already several largely attended meetings had been held in the several wards of the city, and they had met there that night to protest against the action of the Corporation. This hartal was not a new thing—it was an old institution in this country and the people had adopted it whenever they wished to protest against the action of their rulers. They wished to show to the Duke that things were not what were represented to be by the officials. Similar hartals had taken place in almost all the towns visited by the Duke, and now it was for the citizens of Bombay to show what they could do. He requested all those present to abstain themselves from taking part in any of the festivities in connection with the Duke's visit. They had to convince the Duke that what the Government officials had done, was done against the wishes of the people, and in spite of them.

OUR "UNOSTENTATIOUS" CORPORATORS.

Mr. Haji Yusuf Sobani, seconding, hoped something would result out of this action of the Corporation. There was an English proverb that "there was no evil which did not breathe some good." He had been a member of the Corporation for 21 years and he knew the ways of many of the members. He could swear that there were members who had never opened their mouths in the Corporation, and he knew many of such "unostentatious" members; the Corporation was full of them. Their business was only to vote addresses, etc., and thus curry favour. The citizens were taking this action in order to show the King that they were suffering from a grave injustice, which had not been righted for a long time. Although there could be no difference of opinion about the Government officials among the public, he had not the least hesitation in saying that they had not the slightest cause for complaint against the Royal Family. He supported the resolution.

INDIANS' DUTY AT THIS "CRITICAL TIME."

Dr. M. B. Velker said there were about seven members of the Corporation who were opposed to the step taken by the Corporation in voting an address The Corporation voted the address when the Congress men were absent at Calcutta. He had told the Corporation that the address must give expression to their feelings of grief, particularly in regard to the Jallianwalla massacre. He would ask the Duke whether he had brought to India the gift of Swaraj. If not, the people had got nothing to do with the pageants. The National Congress had passed a resolution in favour of Swaraj and that India was not willing to remain a slave in the British Empire—he had represented in that way to the Corporation, but the atmosphere round that body was such that they would not listen to him. Both in Calcutta and Madras the Duke had a really "wonderful" reception. Indians had no part in those festivities; it was the officials who had arranged all matters and they represented only themselves, —the larger public had nothing to do with it. The present was a critical time and it was up to them to show that they were worthy of the land which gave them birth by boycotting all the functions in connection with the visit of the Duke. If they were convinced that cooperation was not for the present Government then it was their duty to keep apart from the official festivities. They must have read the bestial article which that man Dyer had written; that man was still unrepentent and he was left to roam at large and poison the air. Could they cooperate in those circumstances?

WRONGS SHOULD BE RIGHTED FIRST

Maulana Shaukat Ali said Government had chosen the Aga Khan and Mr. Hasan Imam to represent the Moslems at the Peace Conference. When, however, the Khilafat Deputation had gone to England the British would not listen to their grievances. God was there, and although they might not get justice soon, they would get it one day. They were now falling on each other's necks in the Indian Legislative Assembly, in congratulating each other on their moderation. He knew that Mr. Chotani had been asked to attend the Conference, alongwith Mr. Hasan Imam and the Aga Khan. He would tell his friends that the Turks would never give up their possessions willingly, so long as they possessed arms. The British once posed themselves as the friends of Arabs. But what was the fate of those very Arabs now? They knew what would happen at the Conference. If the Muslims had their will they would have chosen Mahatma Gandhi as 'their true representative, for they had the fullest confidence in him. He was the real friend of Moslems. He was not saying that simply because there was unity between the two great communities. He said that to show that the Moslems had the fullest confidence in Hindus, and only by mutual confidence and trust could they get Swarajya for this country. Whatever the decision of the Conference this Hindu-Moslem unity would remain for ever for the permanent good of this great country. Why should they welcome the Duke who had praised the Viceroy who was responsible for the sufferings of India; it was the same man who told Mr. Andrews that Government were bent upon teaching Indians a lesson to hold English lives sacred; it was he who was the author of so many repressive acts. If the Duke could praise such a man how could Indians welcome him heartily? They were talking of the "New Era"? As an instance of it they had only that day read of the arrest and imprisonment of Mr. Yakub Hasan. Unless they got their Punjab wrongs redressed, unless they got the Khilafat question satisfactorily settled, unless they got full Swarajya, Indians would never be reconciled.

PRINCIPAL GIDWANI'S SPEECH.

Principal Gidwani said he congratulated them on receiving the news of the day that the President of the Khilafat Committee had been asked to represent them at the Conference in England; they had not cheered that news because the Khilafat question would be solved in the same manner as the Punjab question had been solved by the Government. Mr. Phurgri had withdrawn the resolution regarding Dyer and O'Dwyer and he had been vociferously cheered. The Khilafat question would no longer be solved there. It would be solved in the same manner as Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas and Mr. Sastri had solved it at Delhi. The speaker assured his Mahomedan friends that Hindus did not want them to go out their way at the Peace Conference to become reasonable; let them be as unreasonable as they could be with the parties whom they meet. Hindus had shown that in the question of Khilafat they would die with their Moslem brothers; they were prepared to support them in whatever step they took. He asked them not to yield unless they got their way in the Council. Hindus lived with them, acted with them and would die with them. In matters of religion there could be no compromise. It was the duty of the Hindus to help the Moslems.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR ROWDYISM?

Coming to the question of Mr. Sastri's lectures in Bombay, Mr Gidwani said while he did not condone rowdiness he must say that the Non-Cooperationists were not responsible for the noise. He congratulated Non-Cooperationists of Bombay on the splendid attitude that they adopted during the lectures. The noise was the non-cooperating noise, but the cooperating voice, and the liberal politicians were responsible in Bombay and everywhere else for it. If today there was any discipline anywhere else in this country it was due to the credit of Non-Cooperation.

The resolution was passed.

Every window in them was smashed, and the woodwork of the interior pitted with bullet marks.

EGYPTIAN DEADLOCK.

SOME MEMBERS OF DELEGATION RETURN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, Feb. 17.

All but four members of the Egyptian delegation have returned from Paris, where Zaghlul Pasha still remains. The delegates who have returned are, next to Zaghlul, most important members of the Egyptian delegation and their departure from Paris is certainly significant. When interviewed, they are reported to have declared they continue to espouse the cause for which they have fought since 1918 and they adhere to the claim for abolition of protectorate and to reservations of the nation which the delegation has laid down as a condition for their entering upon negotiations with the British Government. The members propose to issue an official declaration on the object on their return to Egypt, but whatever they may say to those who are able to read between the lines, the situation is perfectly clear.

CALCUTTA TRAM STRIKE.

STRIKERS FIRED ON: 1 KILLED 6 WOUNDED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, Feeb. 18.

After twenty-two days, Calcutta tram strike position becomes serious. This morning there was a serious riot necessitating firing with the result that one was killed and some were wounded. Last evening, it was known that the management had made arrangements to run cars on the Kalighat section with the aid of Anglo-Indian boys. Strikers held an informal meeting last night, and decided not to allow the company to run cars on that line. Early this morning, an Anglo-Indian boy went to the Kalighat depot ready to bring out cars. Meantime, several hundreds of strikers arrived and took stand in front of the Depot, determined to put obstruction. Apparently both sides were prepared, and as the morning advanced, the strength of rioters outside the Depot swelled, by the addition of more of their friends and sympathisers and numbered about three to four thousand. By that time a car driven by two Anglo-Indians and in charge of several others was soon coming out of the Depot and the strikers soon rushed towards the car, boarded it, and stopped its further progress. Altercation ensued and from words they came to blows. Anglo-Indians being only few, took to their heels, leaving the car on the road and took refuge in a neighbouring house.

A telephonic message of the disturbance was at once sent to the police asking for immediate assistance. Within half an hour a prison-van containing a number of European sergeants was seen coming from Calcutta side, while another motor van brought the armed police from Alipore. The crowd began to pelt stones at the prison van and wounded its driver and guard, both sergeants. Meantime, a number of police officers, European and Indian, arrived in taxis followed by a posse of constables, armed with regulation lathis. The armed police took stand on Hazra Road, a short distance from the scene of occurrence, ready to take action in the case of emergency. The crowd continued pelting stones and brickbats, which they found ready at hand as the road was under repair. The constables attempted to resist a shower of these missiles, but could not do so long. Several of them were hit, while stray stones hit several sergeants, an Inspector and a Deputy Commissioner. When the situation became more critical, the sergeants opened fire and hit several men. One man dropped, and soon the crowd dispersed taking some wounded with them. Four wounded men were removed to the Sambhunath Pandit Hospital where one died. It is reported that altogether seven men were wounded.

MR. YAKUB HASSAN.

WHY HE DISOBEYED ORDER

"TO STOP DISAFFECTION CARRIED FAR AND WIDE."

Mr. K. P. Appair, Calicut, wires to us the following statement given by Mr. Yakub Hassan and three co-prisoners to their legal advisers:—

Notices under Section 144 were served upon us on Tuesday the 15th February after 1.30 p.m. warning and enjoining on us not to take any part in the political meeting that was to be held at Calicut on or about the 15th or 16th February. We were then arrested on the 16th about 3 p.m. under warrants issued by the District Magistrate and were produced before him immediately.

In the warrant it was stated that we had decided to disobey the prohibiting orders in respect of a political meeting at Calicut on or about the 15th or 16th instant. Messrs. Madhavan Nair, Modeen Koya, and U. Gopal Menon represented that they had received instruction as per the telegraphic message produced from Mr. C. Raja Gopalachari, Secretary All-India Congress Committee and Vice-President Madras Presidency, Khilafat Committee to obey the orders of competent authorities and that they had decided not to take part in the meeting. A telegraphic Press message despatched by Mr. Madhavan Nair was produced in Court by the Prosecution, in which it was stated that owing to the arbitrary Executive orders and the curtailment of the liberty of public workers feeling ran very high and that unless the non-violent part of the programme is impressed upon the people, they may get out of order and, therefore, Mr. Yakub Hasan had decided to address the meeting and impress upon the people the need of observing strict non-violence. Mr. Yakub Hasan admitted his intention of disobeying the order with the object mentioned in the telegram and said that if fifteen to twenty thousand people assemble particularly to hear him and go back to their homes with disappointment and rage at the high handedness of the authorities, they would have carried disaffection far and wide. He said that as the General Secretary of the Central Khilafat Committee of India, it was his duty to investigate into the allegations made in the notices served upon him to the effect that as a result of several political meetings on Khilafat and Non-Cooperation and of the speeches made there persons lawfully employed have been intimidated and annoyed in many ways and obstructed in their peaceful pursuits and have been threatened with annoyance and obstruction.

MR. HASAN'S FACIFIC INTENTIONS.

Mr. Yakub Hasan said that as all this was against the spirit of the programme of Non-Coperation, he our programme of Non-Cooperation, he would have prevented their recurrence if they were true by advising the people. He also said that if Mr. Thomas, as the responsible head of the District had sent for him and told him not to do anything that was likely to cause a breach of peace, he might have been in a position to reassure the authorities. "We public workers," he said, "are as anxious as, if not more than the authorities that there should be no violence as Non-violence is essential to the success of the movement of Non-Cooperation"; but when he, as a District Magistrate issued an order to prevent him from attending a meeting that was specially called to hear him and in the notice of which the object of the meeting was not defined he could not obey that order. It was open to him to give a political religious or ceremonious character to the meeting. If Section 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code had given the Magistrate power to prohibit meetings and generally prohibit people from taking part in them, there would have been no necessity for the passing of the Seditious Meetings Act. If the District Magistrate in this instance succeeded in enforcing his order all our activities would be suppressed throughout India which he cannot allow if he can help it. Mr. Yakub Hasan refused to furnish security for Rs. 1,000 for six months to abstain from holding meetings in Malabar.

The District Magistrate told Mr. Yakub Hassan that as he was an elderly man he would feel jail life most miserable, but Mr. Yakub Hassan readily retorted, saying that he was not prepared to be daunted by threats if it was one.

The above is the statement that the four prisoners have given to their legal adviser. They inform us that they are happy and desire the public to do their work peacefully but vigorously.

LATER.

The authorities are sending round notice by 'tom, tom, that no Khilafat meeting should be held within five miles of the Municipal Area until further orders.

MR. RAJAGOPALACHARI AT CALICUT

(From our Own Correspondent.)

CALICUT, Feb. 15.

Scene at the railway station this noon was most imposing. Tens of thousands of people filled the great yard. Local officers and the armed police were present. All the people were marvellously peaceful and orderly when the mail train steamed into the station. Messrs. Rajagopalachari and Kesava Menon were greeted with vociferous cheers as soon as they stepped out of the train. The great gathering marched with solemn prayers and Koran recitations. This occasion demonstrated that the spirit of non-violence and self-control has deeply penetrated the community which is often accused of fanaticism. Procession over two furlongs long proceeded to Mrs. Yakum Hassan's residence after Messrs. Chari and Menon had driven to the imprisoned leader Madhavan Nair's residence where the District Magistrate and the Superintendent some time afterwards interviewed Messrs. Chari and Menon for 45 minutes about the local situation and their programme.

QUESTION IN MADRAS COUNCIL.

MADRAS, Feb. 18.

Immediately after the question time today Mr. Krishnan Nair, member for Malabar, moved for adjournment of the House under rules for the purpose of discussing a matter of urgent public importance—the arrest at Calicut on the 16th instant of Mr. Yakub Hassan, Khilafat leader with three others by the District Magistrate of Calicut and their being sent to jail. The President put the matter before the House and as over 10 members were for discussing the matter in the Council, the President said he would place it before the House, but before doing so he wished to know if the matter in question was not the subject-matter of judicial proceeding before a court of law at the present moment. Mr. Nair gave the President a positive assurance that it was not as judicial proceedings were over. Accepting the member's statement the President fixed the discussion of the question at 4 p.m., the subject of course to the veto which the Governor might exercise under the Act.

Under this oppression by Government he could not understand the Duke's message to forget the past. ESHER REPORT

AMENDED RESOLUTION CARRIED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

DELHI, Feb. 18.

In the Legislative Assembly to-day Sir Sivaswami Iyer urged that the Home Government be asked not to act on parts one and two of the Esher Committee's Report and that the Army in India should be entirely under the real control of the Government of India. An interesting discussion ensued in which Mayshi Iswar Saran and Chowdhri Shahabuddin participated.

Sir Godfrey Fell denied there was any intention on the part of the Esher Committee or the Government of India to allow interference in the Indian Army affairs by the War Office. The Government was fully alive to the paramount necessity of retaining all manner of control on the Indian military policy, but it considered that in certain matters concerned with India and the rest of the Empire it was desirable to obtain advice of the Imperial general Staff. There was not one member of the Esher Committee, who would not rather have his right hand cut off than place the Army in India under the control of the War Office.

Mr. Hailey suggested an amendment to the resolution that instead of the first part of the resolution, the words "notwithstanding anything contained in the first and second part of the Esher Report" be inserted.

This was accepted by Sir Sivaswami Iyer and the amended resolution was carried.

The assembly adjourned till the 19th instant.

GOVERNMENT AND RAILWAY CONTROL.

COL. GRADEY ON EFFECTS OF EXCHANGE MOVEMENTS.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Feb. 18.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company in London, Colonel Gradey expressed the opinion that the Government of India should have full control of the Indian railways but the Government should interfere as little as possible in the management of finance beyond facilitating the raising of fresh capital. He added that the company owned the full-fed stocked line in India. It had largely benefited from the violent fluctuations in the exchange, but he doubted if that would eventually prove profitable. He dwelt on the losses sustained by the railways and shipping through lack of legitimate business in consequence of the exchange movements.

APPEAL TO MR. JINNAH.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—I am addressing this letter to you principally appealing to Mr. M. A. Jinnah to reconsider his attitude towards Non-Co-operation and Non-Co-operationists and I trust I shall not have appealed in vain.

In some few speeches that he delivered after the Non-Co-operation propaganda was launched he tried to criticise the Non-Co-operation programme, his main points being: (1) Non-Co-operation would lead to disaster, (2) why lawyers alone should give up practice, (3) boycott of colleges was fraught with grave perils, and (4) doing away with British connection requir ed bloodshed. Well, Sir, I shall try to answer his criticism.

First of all we have got to settle whether Non-Co-operation is necessary or uncalled for. For that I shall only refer him to his own letter addressed to Lord Chelmsford on the passing of the Rowlatt Act. There in he mentioned that the present Govern ment had lost all claim to be called civili sed, and that was why he resolved to Non-Co-operate with it so far as making legisla tion was concerned. Now, Sir, it is clear that he meant that the present system of Government in India was barbarous; being barbarous and having enacted the Punjab Tragedy, he will agree it has lost all claims to the Co-operation of sane people like him; and that is why. I take it he and Pandit Malaviya did not care to contest for the recent elections and left the Councils to Moderates and toadies. On this point, then, we are at one; Non-Co-operation is the only effective response to the Government carrying on its administration by terrorism and without due deference to public opinion, however vehemently opposite it may be, to the Government's. In this connection be it noted even the hopes of the most optimistic Moderates have been shattered to pieces. The Hon. Mr. Sastrier actually expressed publicly that he had been very strongly expecting some Royal announcement at Delhi. What did he find? Nothing. The Royal message which was delivered by the Duke of Connaught singularly lacked Regret and Repentance; and it once more convinced the Non-Cooperators that Justice was not yet!

Now, Sir, what does Mr. Jinnah mean by disaster? Mr. Gandhi has certainly advised Non-Co-operation and the country has accepted it, for they do want the present machinery of bureaucratic Government to meet with such a severe disaster that it will be impossible to mend it except by handing it over to the people of this country to run on. If he means it will end in disaster for the country itself, I fail to understand. I know what he has got in mind. He thinks, taking advantage of Non-Co-operation, the lawless element in the land will try to assert itself and some thing like a Revolution, met with machine guns of the military, will result. If I may ask him to refer to any spiritual maxim, he will, find that on no account, not, even at the risk of losing one's own life, one is advised to deter from the path of Truth. If he concedes this, and if he concedes that Mr. Gandhi's programme, from beginning to the end, is the doctrine of self-denial—of self-abnegation—I wonder if he seriously suggests that because a holy cause may, apparantly and for the time being, have to face such hidden forces, it should be given up? No. I am certain, on second thoughts, he will admit such a course is suicidal and deterimental to the progress of humanity. Because the research of science has helped many a Kaiser, because it has given birth to many a Zigomar, because it has encouraged many abominable crimes, he will not certainly suggest that research of science must stop. By all means try to weaken the hidden forces and make your progress smooth; but, unless you begin to act. how will you be able to gauge them and be ready to counteract them? And that is exactly what Mahatma Gandhi perceives.

As for the call on lawyers, I, who am not a lawyer, take liberty to point out to Mr. Jinnah that no class of people, lawyer, doctor, engineer, professor, merchant none whatever is excluded from the course of sacrifice. None can shirk from this noble path, saving it is meant for others, Malviya Tilak, Gandhi none of them gave up their practice in accordance with a Congress resolution. They gave it up at the call of their crying motherland which they realised at the earliest possible moment. The Congress resolution is meant for those, who want a "call." It has called upon every son—and daughter too!—of the soil to do what he or she can do for its emancipation. The call is all the more insistent on those who have earned eminence in their line and amassed wealth. Then, Mr. Jinnah will realise, I am sure, that the call upon him to give up practice is not of Congress but of the country, which wants him to give up all his time for itself.

In the days of war, did not Mr. Jinnah ask students to give up their studies and join the Indian Defence Force? Did he not advocate their closing their books and going to the trenches? Then why should he think that if our colleges are now emtied and boys join the Indian Emancipation Force, it is fraught with grave peril? Does he think that defence of India was more important than her Emancipation? Once we emancipate the land, will not its defence be easier? Does he seriously suggest that students who will give up their courses from patriotic motives will wander and wander and ruin their own lives? In fact, does he not think their joining the ranks under Generalisimo Gandhi will avert any mischief-making on their part? What happened in Bengal from 1906 to 1911? When the spirits of the young men there were rightly ablaze with the partition what did it result in?—Anarchy. Why? Because, there was no Mahatma Gandhi at the time reigning supreme in the land. There was no personality who would effectively keep the young men from bombmaking and experimenting with revolvers. With the present atmosphere, thousand times surcharged at the Punjab Tragedy and Khilafat betrayal how much more must you be afraid of this secret plotting? Does he not think boycott of colleges en masse and joining the Non-Co-operation Army, will be an effective safety-valve for such patriotic, yet potentially misguided youths? I hope Mr. Jinnah will pause, think and let me have his verdict!

I place God above everything. Then comes my country and then the King and others. My God, I know is indestructible; I need not worry about Him. I find my country shackled in chains all round. It must be freed. It may be by evolution, it may be by Revolution—bloodless or bloody We tried evolution; we failed. Let us try Revolution. On high spiritual principles I have made up my mind to fight a bloodless revolution to fight out the present bloody system of Government. If the British people, through their Government, will not care for our feelings, we shall have nothing to do with them—the chain of brotherly feelings is as strong as iron yet as light as air. We have given the choice to our British brethren; we have also assured them that their kith and kin in our land will not be molested; we shall try every means of self-purification to attain our end; we are not blood-thirsty; but, if our blood is asked for our country it shall not be asked in vain. We are prepared for it! Surely, this is not a position which Mr. Jinnah would oppose? I am an admirer of his. I know how by dint of perseverance, by independence, he has attained his present position in society. I admire his conduct at the time of the Muslim League session. Bombay I admire his advocacy of Hindu-Muslim unity; I admire his valiant fight at the Town Hall on December 11, 1918; I admire not least his courageous fight at Nagpur Congress, refusing to be dictated in what way he would call a particular person. But, I must say, I feel, sir, he has since Nagpur committed a political suicide. By temperament, I believe, he is not a Moderate. He is not seeking for any official position; that will be unlike Mr. Jinnah. Why is he then keeping quiet? Why not let the country have him? It is looking to him. Will he respond and respond cheeringly?—Yours, etc.,

ADMIRER OF MR. JINNAH.

THE LOTUS EATERS

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Our friends, Messrs. Jamnadas and Bhargri and Sastri go to the Legislative Assembly with high-sounding resolutions, recommending to the Government the revision of the Punjab wounds from the view-point of justice. They back these resolutions with words of "sweet-reasonableness" and "admirable tone of moderation and toleration," when Sir William Vincent, the "unblessed mother" of the Rowlatt Act, gets up and compliments Mr. Jamnadas on his moderation and good sense, in asking him, to withdraw his deterrent punishment clause. Sir Godfrey Fell tells something against Dyer and European members and Zemindars request the mover of the resolution to fulfil the Home Members' desire, and lo! there is the withdrawal of the clause. Mr. Bhurgri has a long series of questions to ask on the Punjab and when his name is called upon, briskly gets up from his seat and with a feeling of innocent satisfaction say that in view of the debate he would not press them. Mr. Khaparde draws the attention of the Assembly to the significance of the Hartal observed at Delhi, but the Assembly would not give attention to anything except lotus-honey flowing from official channels. When honey from unexpected quarters is tasted for the first time there is generated a strange tingling in the body and there follows wild and triumphant smacking of the lips. How lucky that our legislators are undergoing the fascination!—Yours, etc.

B.A EXAMINATION.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—I hope you will kindly publish a few following lines in your highly esteemed paper.

It has been reported that a suggestion has been made to the University Senate to postpone the B.A. Examination till the 25th of April due to unpreparedness of students owing to troubled atmosphere.

I wish to put forward the feelings of a large number of students regarding this matter and hope that it will be taken into consideration at the next meeting of the Senate.

As a rule students complain about their preparation being poor. No student will be ever found professing that he is fully prepared to face the examination. Nonetheless the Examination does take place and we find that the complainants do not all fail. This time especially the postponement of the examination is against the desire of the student-world due to reasons that have been mentioned below:—

The postponement will bring the examination to a very hot month when the brain will surely complain against working for six hours every day under the scorching heat of the sun. The latter half of April and May are specially very hot and that is why they form part of the summer-vacation every year. Nothing, then, is more injurious than to put off the examination which requires cool brain and bracing climate,.

It is not here out of place to mention that there are a number of students who are self-dependent. These boys earn a part of their living during the vacation. To such students who keep company with poverty, the good old maid of India, the postponement of the examination will be a sort of great obstruction—rather a curse.

It is the general tendency of students to free themselves from the bother of examination as soon as possible; and the sooner it is the better for them. And these being troubled times every one has the desire at heart to be free from the excitement as soon as possible.

Besides all these, it must be said that vacation is meant for rest and to deprive the students of their days of rest after two years of hard labour and anxiety is not a mean objection against postponing the examination.

Due to the reasons mentioned above, it is the general desire of the student-world to stick to the day that is already fixed and not to accept the proposal to postpone the examination for three weeks.—Yours, etc.

A STUDENT.

INDIA AND IRELAND.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—The Father and author of the Rowlatt Act has opened his lips at Delhi! Sir Vincent told his kind co-operationists, how "the drastic measures taken in Ireland were much more severe than those aken in India"!! True, in a way quite true! But are the conditions in India and in Ireland alike? No. Then how can the parallel stand?

(1) Was there a rebellion in India? No.

(2) Was there an armed and organised resistance against Government? No.

(3) Has there been a violent agitation against Government? No.

(4) Has there been a single repetition of the disturbances that took place Viramgaum, Delhi and Amritsar in consequence of the detention of Gandhiji an internment of Kitchlew and Satyapal in 1919? No.

(5) Then where are the points of comparison between conditions in India and in Ireland? Now, will Sir Vincent or his lieutant or his supporter tell us:—

Whether there are parallels in the current history of Ireland to what we experienced in India in 1919?

(1) The firing on the armless defence less, and innocent men, women and children at Jallianwalla Baug!

(2) The crawling of citizens!

(3) The flogging of men, women and children!

(4) The parading of students for miles in the basking sun!

(5) Uncovering women, even of question able character, in public?

(6) Dropping bombs from aeroplanes on the Punjab villages?

(7) Deporting and interning lawyers and citizens without a fair trial?

(8) Exonerating guilty officials.

(9) And even granting them pensions from Indian treasury!

Can iniquity go any further? Let the co-operationists kindly consider.—Your etc.

MILL STORES

BOMBAY, Feb. 18.

The market continued quiet. Little of excitement in the transactions of various commodities was evident. Healds was the only article which kept a steady demand, and witnessed a further upward move in the price. Home offers have been nearly 50 to 60d. per 800 eyes. Reeds are quoted locally at varying prices, owing to difference in quality. Home offers for Reeds are very high nearly 8d. per 100 dents. Roller Cloth Clearer cloth, and Flannels had nothing of interest. Buffers, Picking, Bands, and skins continued dull. Among Shuttles and Bobbins etc., no liveliness was evidenced. There is practically no demand for Shuttles, whereas Japanese Bobbins had tolerably good demand. The quotations are as under:—

Healds Rs. 3-4; Reeds As. 5; Sizing Flannels Rs. 7; Picking Bands Rs. 2-9; Pickers No. 4 Rs. 85 to Rs. 90; Spring Buffers Rs. 2; Slubbing Bobbins Rs. 45 to Rs 50; Conical-Prin "5" (Japanese Rs. 12; Banding Rim ½" Rs. 2.6.

HIGH COURT.

APPELLATE SIDE.

BRUTAL MURDER OF AGED FATHER BY ONLY SON.

RUTHLESS AND REVOLTING BRUTALITY.

DEATH SENTENCE CONFIRMED

Fakira Yellappa Manikotti and two others vs. The King-Emperor.

(Before the Chief Justice Sir Norman Macleod and Sir Lallubhai Shah.)

This was an appeal against the decision of Mr. F. K. Boyd, Sessions Judge of Belgaum. He disagreeing with the assessors found the accused guilty of murder and sentenced him to death.

FACTS OF THE CASE.

The facts are briefly these:—

The deceased Yellappa was residing at Madlur in the Paragad Taluka of the Bijapur District. The accused Fakira is the only son of the deceased. At about 9 p.m. on the 17th October 1920, one Karya was in his field watching the crops by moonlight. His field was next to that which was cultivated by Yella, now deceased. He saw all the accused coming from the direction of Madlur and heard accused No. 1 say words to the effect "let us kill him." He asked the accused where they were going and they said that they were going for shikar. Karya did not believe this fact. He concealed himself in a bush and began to observe the movements of the accused. In about half an hour all the accused went quietly to the deceased's hut, seized him and began to beat him with their fists, and apparently to throttle him. The deceased was dead and the accused took out the corpse and hung it on a tree. Next morning one Mushoppa, with whom the deceased was staying, went to his field. He saw the corpse hanging from a tree. He was terrified, ran back to the village and told the Patil that the deceased had hanged himself The Patil went there and after making due inquiries informed the Sub-Inspector. The police arrested the accused and they were put for trial before the Sessions Court.

MOTIVE OF THE CRIME.

In regard to motive, it was said that, about three months before this, deceased who was an old man, had quarrelled with his son, the accused Fakira, because the latter did not take proper care of him and that since then he had been living with his nephew Mushappa and had expressed his intention of giving his property to Keneha, the brother of Mushappa.

In the Sessions Court Fakira alleged 'alibi' and further said that Kulkarni was his enemy. The other accused said that they had been falsely charged.

"The Sessions Judge observed:—"The case is one of a peculiarly revolting nature. There is nothing to support any of the allegations of the accused. In my opinion, the guilt of all accused is established. The assessors find, or profess to find, none of the accused guilty. Long experience has made me correctly anticipate, and disregard, the opinion of Hindu assessors in cases of murder, where the natural result of conviction is a death sentence. This was one of the most shocking and brutal murders within by memory. The murder of the aged father by his only son and several of his companions, was deliberate. They clearly premeditated the time—when the old man was asleep—and carried out the murder ruthlessly and with revolting brutality. The accused Fakira was the ringleader. It is, however, certain that all the accused intended murder and nothing less."

CONVICTIONS CONFIRMED.

Their Lordships after hearing arguments confirmed the convictions and sentences and dismissed the appeal.

Mr. Nilkanth Atmaram appeared for the accused.

The Government Pleader represented the Crown.

POLICE COMMISSIONER AND PIGEON KILLINGS.

The Mandvi public have felt some concern at the delay on the part of the Police Commissioner in issuing orders prohibiting the killing of pigeons in public places and streets. On the 11th February there appeared in the "Bombay Chronicle," a letter under the above heading. Thereupon, Mr. C. F. Nanavatty, Secretary of the Bombay Humanitarian League, addressed a letter to the Police Commissioner, drawing his attention to the correspondence and enquiring what arrangements the Police Commissioner had made in the matter referred to Mr. Nanavatty also queried, in the event of the Commissioner having no objection, to get copies of any Order in the matter printed by his League and posted up at public places and streets. The Police Commissioner, in his reply, dated the 12th instant to Mr. Nanavatty's letter, says:—

"Notice Boards are being prepared containing the following notice in English and Gujarati:

NOTICE.

"The public are hereby warned against harming the pigeons feeding in this locality. Cruelty shown to these birds seriously offends the religious susceptibilities of the citizens frequenting the neighbourhood."

"I have placed an order for nine such boards which will be erected near the "Kabutarkhanas" in Mandvi, Bhuleshwar and opposite the General Post Office. "I discarded my original intention of issuing printed notices by reason of the fact that as required is something lasting. I hope the notices will be ready and in position in the course of a few days."

HOME MARKET.

BOMBAY, Feb. 18.

During the week under review home markets continued steady with some slight fluctuations as will be seen from the table below. Advices from Home still continue rather bearish owing to Manchester reports being still gloomy. We still advise buying July New York at 14.00 cents and also at Liverpool same position at 9d. with an idea of profitable investment in the long run.

8th February to 15th February 1921.

Liverpool Spot 1921 8.98, 9.06 plus 8.
New York spot 1921, 14.05, 14.20 plus 15.
Liverpool March 1921, 8.51, 8.80 plus 29.
Liverpool May 1921 8.79, 9.00 plus 21.
New York March 1921, 13.52, 13.32—80..
New York May, 1921, 13.90 13.82—12.

During the week Fully Good Broach opened in the Bazaar at Rs. 302½ on the 11th dropped to Rs. 298 on the 14th and again went up to Rs. 315 on the 17th instant, thus showing an advance of about Rs. 17 during the interval. Fine Oomras for March and May opened at Rs. 236 and Rs. 247 respectively on the 11th and closed at Rs. 254 and Rs. 265 on the 17th. In the same way Fully Good Bengal opened at Rs. 200 for March and Rs. 207 for May and closed at Rs. 211 for March and Rs. 218 for May on the 17th instant. We recommend our friends to sell Fully Good Broach and to buy May position in Liverpool at this level as the later is a cheap bargain.

As for ready cotton there was a fairly good enquiry both by exporters and mills at better prices. About 20,000 bags are reported to have changed hands during the week.

BOMBAY MARKETS.

very difficult to effect transactions and stocks have not moved into consumption. Even the business amongst the dealers in the bazaar has been at a standstill, as no one wishes to increase his commitments. Manchester Grey Shirtings the values have been nominally maintained. Drills and Jaconets have been easier. White shirtings have shown a reduction of thirty per cent in some sorts. Gold End White Mulls have declined by four annas per piece. 58 inches Red End Mulls have been steady as the stocks in dealers' hands are scarce. There has been a substantial decline in nainsooks, especially those in 26, 32, 45 and 50 inches width, which have remained dull. The 26 inches by 18 yards, 16 by 13 to 16 by 15 counts, Nainsooks have changed hands in small lots at Rs. 5 per piece bazaar terms and it is reported that the recent arrivals of these goods are invoiced at 10 shillings 11 pence F. B. H. The differences between th different widths of Nainsooks have dwindled down to the proportionate ratios and 26 and 32 inches have been sold at a difference of eight annas only.

Prices of Manchester Cloths have declined here in sympathy with the dull state of the local mill cloths. A fair reduction in prices has been noticeable for Japanese cloths, which have moved off for consumption in fair lines. Bearish sentiment is more pronounced than ever and owing to the large supplies of cloth, there is every probability of an early decline in values. Heavy imports continue to pour into India, and during the nine months ending December 1920, the country has imported nearly 86 crores of piece-goods, which is 50 crores more than the same period of 1919.

The Manchester Market has been quiet with little doing. Now and again needy sellers have been quietly accepting wretched prices from Shippers. The Importing Firms have not shown any inclination to do fresh business on their own account looking at the state of affairs here, and they rather wish to see better clearances of goods arrived under the existing contracts than book further business. Some Firms have been experiencing considerable difficulty in financing the business done on dealers' account. The Banks have been charging higher rate of interest and are demanding more margin money on the value of the goods owing to the depreciation.

It is interesting to note that Messrs. Ashton Brothers, cotton spinners of Manchester and Hyde, are paying their three thousand workers seven and a half per cent. bonus on last year's wages, averaging ten pounds sterling a head, and meanwhile a savings bank has been inaugurated for the operatives where sums can be withdrawn at a day's notice, the bank rate being five per cent free of income-tax. This example of participating profits should be followed by the Indian Mills.

THE EXCHANGE PROBLEM.

During the week the rate of exchange has declined further and considerable anxiety has been felt by the commercial community regarding the future course of the same. In the first business meeting of the Council of State at Delhi the Hon. Rao Bahadur Annamalai Chettiyar asked whether the Government proposed to stabilise the exchange and if so, when? Mr. E. Cook replied that the Government are unable to give any guarantee regarding the course of the rupee sterling exchange. This is to be regretted as unless the stability is assured, trade is bound to suffer. The necessity of controlling the rate of exchange is very keenly felt. The following is the circular from the Lahore Trades' Union from which it will be seen that the dealers have resolved not to pay any overdue interest to the bank as also any improper charges such as godown rent etc over and above the usual rates:—

A combind meeting of all the Trade Unions of Lahore under the patronage of Lahore Traders' Union, presided over by Lalla Motilall of Dabbi Bazar was held at Jhelum House on the 19th January, 1921, at 1 p.m. Leading merchants of Dabbi Bazar, Bazar Hatta, Lakhsmi Piece-goods Market, Anarkali, Nila Gumbaz and Commercial Building, attended the meeting in large numbers. Nearly all the leading local import agents were present in the meeting. The following resolutions after much discussions were passed unanimously:—

1. That no merchant is to retire the outstanding and incoming drafts until the bills are retired at Rs. 10 a pound (as declared by Government) or a reduction is effected to bring the total amount at par with 2 shillings a rupee. No bills are to be retired at this rate even without the permission of the Lahore Traders' Union. Further no overdue interest is to be paid to the bank.

2. Copies of the previous resolution be forwarded to all import agents of Lahore and they be asked not only to forward the resolution by wire to their home agents and principals but also to make them accept the terms proposed and get the final replies by wire. The cost carrying out the above resolution to be paid by the Union.

3. No merchant is to pay any improper charges such as godown rent, etc., which are levied by the banks, etc., over and above the usual rates.

4. Copies of all resolutions passed by the Union to be forwarded to the press for publication and hand bills embodying the same be published and distributed."

Delay in settling the matter has prompted these merchants to adopt this attitude, and it is feared that other Associations will follow suit.

It is the duty of the importing firms to acquaint the makers and shipper, of the exact position of the trade at present and to try and obtain relief generally for the dealers who are in distress, as otherwise they will themselves have to bear the whole burden. Makers have taken advantage of the exchange when the rate advanced to 2/10 by raising their quotations and the importing firms have also reaped a good harvest. If a conciliatory attitude is not adopted by the importing firms shippers and makers, Japanese and American competitors as well as the local mills will not fail to take advantage of this opportunity to secure the Indian markets for their production, to the detriment of Lancashire Trade. It is no use saying that the firms are ready to help those was are, so to say, in an insolvent position, as the firms will have to bear the loss anyhow in the case of such dealers; but what is wanted is that they should meet all the dealers on an equal basis. The dealers have the honour but not the cash to meet their engagements and that is why they have not repudiated their contracts entirely. but have offered to meet their engagements at the exchange rate of two shillings. Some high talk is being heard from the lips of interested parties as to the want of business morality with Indian merchants, and they may well be asked if, during the war time, they had faithfully fulfilled the terms of the contracts. Infringement of the terms of the contracts was very common at the time. Higher rates of freight were demanded, allowances for late shipments were discontinued, and in some cases goods manufactured under contract were sold to other parties at higher rates, and various pretexts and pleas were put forward to evade the responsibility. Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones at others Some wiseacres have come forward to advise the firms to cease future business with these Indian dealers and to insist upon cash with orders. This advice, if followed, will be welcomed by the followers of Mahatma Ghandiji, as it would amount to non-coperation on the part of the firms and would tend to bring the same result as is desired by that party. The Swadeshi campaign is gathering strength everywhere. Manchester goods worth millions are lying in the warehouses, bills of which have not been paid or even accepted, while the values are declining daily. It is high time that this matter should be settled in the interests of all parties concerned. In the first place a special meeting of the dealers should be called at once to give further consideration to the matter in the light of the views expressed recently by the Manchester and London Chambers of Commerce as well as by the Associated Chambers of Commerce here, and after the question is fully discussed to arrive at some means for the solution of this difficult problem. Then a round table conference should be arranged between the representatives of the Association and the representatives of the Bombay Chamber of Commerce, and the managers of the Exchange Banks may also be invited to be present. A fair understanding may thus be arrived at which can be called to the Manchester Chamber of Commerce with a recommendation to meet the situation to avert a crisis. If the burden is divided on the shoulders of several parties, it will be easy to lift it up, and unless the matter is forced to a head immediately the load will become too heavy as time goes on. It is reported that the Exchange Banks are refusing to negotiate Indian bills, which will be another difficulty for the shippers. It is interesting to note the warning given by Mr. Thomas M. Ainscough, O B E, (H. M. Senior Trade Comissioner in India and Ceylon in the January issue of "Commercial Intelligence Notes" published in Calcutta) to Export houses dealing with small Indian buyers:—"India is one of the most dangerous markets in the world for a new firm to trade with unless it has either good agents in the country or maintains its own travelling representatives."

PIECE GOODS IMPORTS INTO INDIA.

The total imports during the week epding 29th January, 1921 of cotton piecegoods by sea from foreign countries into the ports of Calcutta, Bombay, Karachi, Madras and Rangoon amounted to 31 million yards, as against 66 million yards and 13 million yards in the corresponding period of 1920 and 1919 respectively. The total quantity of piecegoods (Indian and foreign) despatched during the same period by rail from the ports of Calcutta, Bombay, Karachi and Madras amounted to 1,101 tons as against 1,809 tons in 1920 and 1955 tons in 1919.

PAYMENT AGAINST IMPORTS IN KARACHI.

A member of the Karachi Chamber of Commerce points out that sometime ago the question was raised as to the ra tes of exchange granted to dealers against cash payment for goods sold on a sterling basis and it was stated that it had for many years been the recognised custom in Karachi not to give better than the B.C. rate; adding that nearly all firms agreed to abide by this system and it is now customary to give D.C. rate if cash is paid within two days but that better rates are given if payment is made at a later date. The member points out that on this basis it is obvious that dealers will always adopt the latter method, and as this amounts to giving a premium in Exchange for deferred payments—a most undesirable procedure from the point of view of the office—and therefore suggests that no firm should give a better rate of Exchange than the B.C. rate of the day for goods which have arrived in Karachi. The Chamber has decided to refer the matter to the Piece goods and Yarns Sub Committee as representing Imports for favour of an early report

MODERATES AND MARWARI'S

LATTER REFUSE TO COOPERATE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
CALCUTTA, Feb. 18.

The Assistant Secretary of the Marwari Trades Association received a circular under the signature of the Hon. Sir Surendra Nath Banerjee, the Hon. Mr. Provash Chunder Mitter, Moulvi Fazlul Huq, Raja Rishucase Law and six other moderates. The circular in conclusion says:—With a view to have an organisation of those who desire the successful working of the reforms and with a view to take such steps as may ensure their success and to convey to the Government of India an earnest appeal in the shape of a resolution to transfer to Bengal the export duty on jute, which at present amounts to about 2½ crores of rupees, a conference will be held at the Dalhousie Institute on Saturday the 19th February at 4 p.m. You are most earnestly requested to attend and participate in the deliberations of the conference.

To the above circular the following reply was sent:—In reply to your circular, I beg to say that I am not in a position to participate in your conference for the following reasons, which are noted for your information:—(1) I have no belief in the so called reforms, (2) the organisation of like-minded members as you propose, such as Sir Surendra Nath Banerjee, Sir Hariram Goenka, Mr. Provas Chandra Mitter and others in your circular cannot in any way be called a representative body and therefore I do not find any good in encouraging such autocratic institutions, (3) so long as the present constitution of the Government of India remains unchaged, and the majority of the country cannot be in favour of sending any appeal to Government.

GALE INTERRUPTS PROCEEDINGS OF CONFERENCE.

(From a Correspondent.)
BHIWANI, Feb. 15.

Mahatma Gandhi arrived by motor with Mrs. Gandhi and Maulana Abulkalam Azad Lala Byarilall and others. Thirty thousand people assembled. A powerful gale blew throughout day. The Mahatmaji addressed a monster meeting of ladies and at the close thousands came forward to give money, rings, ornaments for the national cause.

The Conference began its sittings at 4-30 p.m. Mr. Desai welcomed the Mahatmaji. Lala Lajpatrai and other honoured guests and explained why the Conference was necessary though hariana was not a read field for the programme of Non-Cooperation. Yet it was a true and necessary field of work, when the new programme, viz., stopping recruitment and non-payment of tax will be taken in hand. He then proposed Lala Lajpatrai to take the chair. When the first resolution of Non-Cooperation was being moved the gale became too strong and the audience could not sit in the open ground nor anything could be heard and consequently the meeting was adjourned 7 in the evening.

MADRAS COUNCIL,

BOARD OF REVENUE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, Feb. 17.

Unlike other provinces, the resolution for the abolition of the Board of Revenue brought at to-day's session of the Legislative Council was accepted by the Government in a modified form. The resolution to abolish it altogether was moved by Mr. M. Ramchandra Rao of Kistna who argued that the Board was totally unnecessary in these days of an enlarged council. The Revenue Member for the Government on the other hand contended the abolition of the Board would throw a considerable amount of work on him. Mr. S. Srinivasa Iyengar (Member for the University) characterised the Board as an effecient and irresponsible purdah lady. screening the original sources of information from Government. By continuing the Board the land revenue on which depended the happiness and prosperity of millions of people would be prevented from being made a transfered subject.

Sir Lionel Davidson speaking from practical experience of the Board said that would be impossible to carry on the administration without such a vital body as the Board.

There was a lively debate in the course of which the member for Ganjam intervened with an amendment that a committee of the Council be appointed to inquire into the question of the abolition and for providing such agency as may be absolutely necessary for carrying on administration economically and efficiently. The original resolution was withdrawn and the amendment to appoint a committee of investigation was accepted by Government, who said that it was practically similar to the formula which Government have laid before themselves, namely to inquire into the expediency and feasibility of abolishing the Board of Revenue as at present constituted, by such an alternative agency as may be required to carry on administration with economy and at the same time without loss of effeciency.

BEHAR LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

MEDICAL RELIEF.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

PATNA, Feb. 17.

At Wednesday's meeting of the local Legislative Council the Hon. Mr. M. S. Das moved an amendment to substitute the words "At an early date" for "Coming year" and to add the words "Or other suitable means of supplying medical relief" after words "One dispensary.".

Mr. Baynath, representing labouring classes, pointed out substitution of words "at an early date" destroyed the purpose of the whole resolution, it had no meaning, it meant no business. He opposed the amendment.

Mr. Devaki Prasad Sinha opposed the amendment and suggested that if it was a matter of expense, advantage might be taken of introducing the unani and ayurvedic system of medical relief. Several alter members opposed the amendment.

The Hon. Mr. Das replied to the debate and the amendment was put to the vote and carried by a majority of 12 and the original resolution, as amended, was passed.

Maulvi Mallik Muktar Ahmed withdrew his resolution for discontinuance of travelling allowances and halting charges to the members of the legislative council.

Babu Ram Gopalsingh Chowdhry moved that immediate steps be taken to adopt measures to prevent contamination of the Ganges water from Digha Ghat to Masufganj for the benefit of the health of the residents of Patna, who use river water for drinking and bathing purposes. Rai Bahadur Purendu Narayan Sinha seconded the resolution. The discussion turned mainly on the question whether the matter was not one for the Municipality to deal with. The Hon. Mr. Das stated that he would consider what could be done in the area outside the municipal control and the Municipality should act in matters within their jurisdiction.

The resolution was carried.

COUNCIL PROCEEDING IN VERNACULAR.

A resolution urging that the proceedings of the Legislative Council should be conducted in Hindi and that the reports of proceedings as well as all notices, bills and other papers connected with the proceedure of the Council should be published in Hindi as well as in English was then moved. Two amendments to it were moved suggesting that both the vernaculars, Urdu and Hindi, should be used, and suggesting the omission of the word "principally" from the original resolution and including "the use of Urdu and Ooriya in addition to Hindi." The mover accepted both the amendments. The Hon. Mr. Sahay regretted Government's inability to accept the resolution or amendment.

In the course of a reply to a question. Mr. Siffton stated:—

There has been a decline in the cosumption of country spirit during the past month, which might be attributed to the Boycott movement.

HOW TO ACHIEVE SWARAJYA.

GANDHI & LALA LAJPAT RAI AT BHIWANI

(From a Correspondent.)

BHIWANI, Feb. 15.

The Hariana rural conference held its session this afternoon. Very simple arrangements only were made. The meetings are being held on the maiden. Lala Lajpatrai and Sheth Jamnalal Bajaj arrived this morning from Hissar. A grand reception was given to them at the station. The Agarwal Bainia community took them in procession through the city. The Mahatmaji and party will arrive by motor at 12 o'clock to attend the conference Pandit Motilal Nehru, Hakim Sahib and other leaders also are coming. Thousands of the rural population have come for to-morrow's sittings at Kalanaur and Rohtak.

The adjourned sittings of the Rural Conference met at seven, more than twenty thousand people attending. The first resolution approving and accepting the Nagpur Congress resolution was proposed and seconded in Hindu and passed. Mr. Desai then proposed the next resolution. Calling upon the people to give up liquor and other intoxicating drugs. He said it was hopeless to expect anything from the present Government, which traded even in such matters which ruined the vitals and morals of the people of the country and they must teach the Government where real morals lay by taking a vow to give up those. This was also carried after it was only seconded.

The resolution regarding Swadeshi was proposed by Lala Melaram, who in the meeting changed the dress he was wearing and promised a donation of Rs. 500 yearly till Swaraj was gained. The fourth resolution was for the establishments of panchayats. The next resolution. calling upon the Council members to resign and that they were not the people's representatives was moved from the chair and passed.

MR. GANDHI'S SPEECH.

The Mahatmaji then made a speech. He said that after the Nagpur Congress the resolution on Drink and intoxicating drugs were carried out by the meeting. He had observed that people were satisfied with mere passing of resolutions and were afterwards unconcerned with the carrying out of their resolve. That was a most unfortunate thing. Those who passed resolutions were expected to carry them out. There were certain conditions attached to the statement made by him in September last that Swaraj could be attained within one year. From that month the first indispensable condition was that the people remained Non-violent even in the face of provocation, whether from the Government or from amongst themselves. Non-violence with the speaker was the creed, but every body now had realised that Swaraj was unattainable within any measurable distance of time by methods of violence. The second condition was Cooperation among themselves. They, therefore, could not treat anyone of their own kith and kin as untouchable. He claimed to be a staunch Hindu. His Hinduisim taught him to consider every man his brother, entitled to the same opportunities and previlings as himself. So long, therefore, as they treated millions of their countrymen as untouchables, they must be content to remain the untouchables of the Empire. If Non-Cooperation was the movement of purification, all their evil habits had to go. The third condition was the complete boycott of foreign cloths at any cost. That could only be brought about by making home spinning a voluntary obligation during leisure hours by young and old, male and female, at least during the year. The fourth condition was pecuniary contribution by every one to the utmost of his or her ability. They could not carry on Swadishi propaganda or National Schools or Colleges without funds.

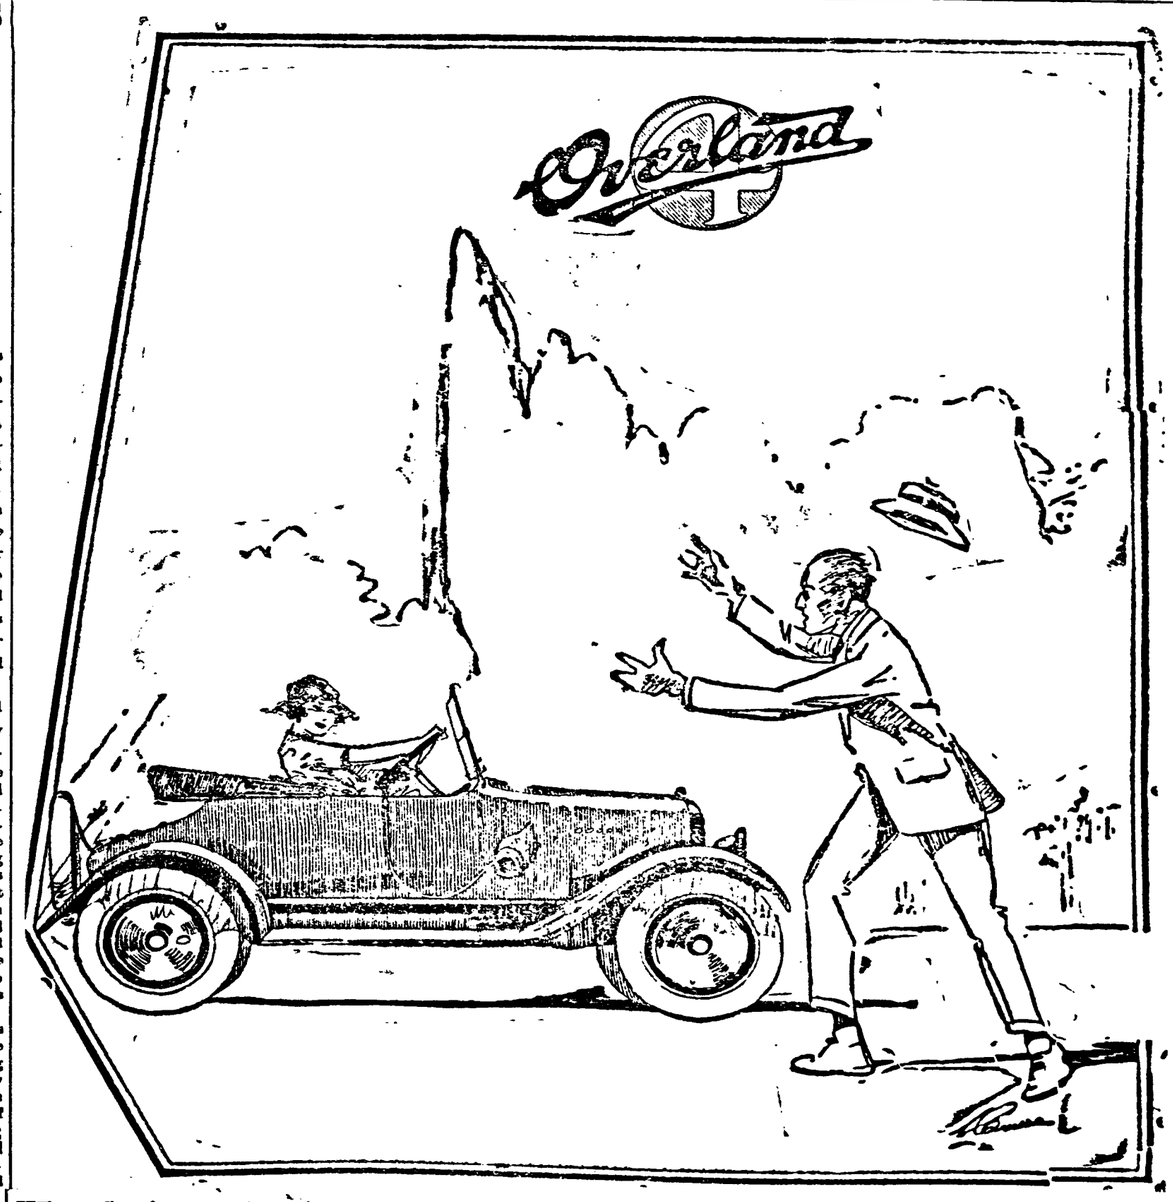
He had mentioned these four conditions which were of universal applications. Now those relating to the special classes. Whilest the Congress did not call upon the sepoys and the police men to give up their services, it did expect them to be faithful to the people and the Congress did expect the military classes not to going for any further enlistment. There should be no new recruits for the police or the Military. If the conditions that the speaker mentioned could be carried out in a satisfactory manner, he said that Swaraj could certainly be gained before September. No one could complain that the fulfilment of the conditions he had named was at all difficult.

The proceedings were brought to a conclusion by the resolution relating to the unrepresentative character of the members of the Legislative Councils, which was put from the chair and a speech by Lala Lajpat Rai.

LALA RAJPAT RAI'S ADDRESS.

The Lala observed that Non-Cooperation was a dharma and not a mere policy. No doubt, it was an unusual remedy for an unusual situation. They had so far used all the means of Cooperation with the Government and failed to achieve their object which was freedom in their own country. Our loyalty and Cooperation was rewarded by brutal repression and Jallianwalla Bag Nothing now was left but Non-Cooperation, that is, withdrawal of all help from Government which alone made it possible for a handful of foreigners to govern a nation of [illegible] He [illegible] the year [illegible] of national freedom, and exhorted all Indians, young and old, to strive to achieve it by non-violent Non-Cooperation as adopted by the Indian National Congress. He made a special appeal to the intelligencia to dedicate their lives to the service of the motherland and take the life of simplicity, without which it was impossible to lead the people and win their confidence.

The meeting then adjourned for further sittings at Kalanor and Rohtak and the audience dispersed amidst thundering cries of "Mahatma Matram" and "Mahatmaji Ki [illegible]



HE—"Goodness sake Louise, Don't Back up against that Margin Line or you'll fall out of the picture!"

SHE—"Don't Worry Herbert—The Three—point suspension Springs will Save me and the car when we land!"

MY RESPONSIBILITY.

(BY M. K. G.)

"The Servant of India" has referred me to the remarks of a Poona non-co-operator to illustrate that all non-co-operators are actuated not by love but by hate. I have never doubted it. On the contrary. I have admitted that many non-co-operators are impelled by hate, that most are impelled by a sense of justice, and some few by love only. The recital of the Poona facts is followed by a rebuke. Thus the writer ends:—"To enrol under the banner of love and peace the forces of hatred and violence, to believe that a simple doctrine can convert every heart into the purest gold, to persist in smoking a peaceful pipe on a stack of hay and in apparent innocence to disclaim all responsibility for the consequences, is amazing conduct even in a prophet." The rebuke, I am sorry to say, is based on three unwarranted assumptions. I have not enrolled under the banner of love and peace the forces of hatred and violence, but I have enrolled under the banner of justice all those who wish to secure it; and in doing so, as a practital reformer, I have not hesitated to take in those who I know are actuated by hatred. Even the latter are entitled to justice. Only I must see that they do not give play to their hatred. I claim that the vast majority of the haters are honorably fulfilling the compact, because they realise that non-violence is the best and the only policy for the country if it is to attain justice, and not merely to vent anger. I therefore do not need to believe that "a simple doctrine can convert every heart into the purest gold.' But I do believe that practical experience is likely to change policy into creed. For I believe that people are by nature loving and peaceful. When they hate and kill, they do so against their better nature. I am not "smoking a peaceful pipe on a stack of hay and in apparent innocence disclaiming all responsibility for the consequences!" On the contrary, as an expert miner, I am moving in a coal-mine full of explosive gases with a safety lamp well protected against explosion, with a due sense of responsibility, and with the full knowledge that, inspite of the apparent safety of the lamp, the gases may, by some mysterious processes, any moment explode. If they do, I shall not shirk responsibility. I shall ask forgiveness not from avenging and indignant countrymen but from God, Who knows my motive and Who knows that He has created in me a frail mortal liable to err and has yet given him the faculty to judge and act. I claim to be a soldier, and a soldier is nothing if he does not take the boldest risks. The reference to "a prophet" is an unkind cut coming from The "Servant of India." The writers in that journal should know that I do not claim to be a prophet. But I do claim to be a devoted servant of the country with a burning passion to assist in delivering it from the intolerable yoke which has given it a stoop which it does not even sometimes recognise—"Young India."

MR. SASTRI'S LECTURES

WAS IT ADVISABLE TO HOLD PUBLIC MEETINGS ?

In the course of its comments referring to the recent disturbances at Mr. Sastri's lectures, the "Indian Social Reformer" writes:—

There is no code of rules as to when public meetings may be called, how they should be called, by whom they should be called and for what purposes. It does not follow, however, that there is not a right and a wrong method in regard to public meetings. In the absence of a definite set of rules, it is wise to be guided by the example of responsible and experienced local leaders who know the conditions in which the sound judgment of a community is likely to find free expression at a public meeting. They will not choose the wrong time because they are the custodians of the community's reputation for good sense, and there are conditions which may temporarily militate against the unhampered functioning of the better mind of the people. So far as the city of Bombay is concerned, Sir Pherozeshah Mehta was the leader who knew it best, because he loved it most, in all its varying moods and fancies—a community like an individual is subject to these—and we cannot do better in matters of this kind than study and closely follow the precedents which he was established. During the troubles times which followed the Surat split, Sir Pherozeshah Mehta steadily resisted all suggestions to hold public metings in Bombay, though his tremendous personal authority could and would have overborne all attempt at opposition. He was influentially sounded, we believe, during "the Tilak riots," and his answer was an emphatic "no". Now, it is a fact worth nothing that the Anti-Non-Cooperation Committee which had ben formed in Bombay under the auspices of such veteran leaders as Sir Dinshah Wacha, Sir Narayan Chandavarkar and Sir Gokuldas Parekh, had discussed the question of holding a public meeting and had deliberately decided that it was undesirable to hold one at the time. How Mrs. Besant's lectures came to be organised several days after that, without consulting these leaders, is an episode of Bombay politics, on which it is best not to lift the veil.

Similarly, Mr. Sastry's presence seems to have been sought to be utilised. The promoters of these meetings might have quite reasonably thought that these orators whom Bombay audiences do not get frequent opportunities of hearing, might obtain a bearing which may be denied to local men. We do not blame anybody, and we have severely condemned the disgraceful exhibitions at these meetings. Nor do we seek to minimise the pluck and courage of the organisers and the speakers in facing an audience which was really more uproarious than angry. All that we mean to point out is that, with previous consultation with local leaders, these qualities would have been exhibited with greater effect and to greater purpose.
